
Welcome Council Rock Class of 88

Posted by Tracy Milligan - 2007/11/01 11:33

This thread discusses the Content article: Welcome Council Rock Class of 88

Hi everyone from the class of 1988.....can't believe it's been 20 years. Life goes by so fast when your having fun. I found this websit from just playing around my son's school webpages. Yes, I have a 15 year old,9th grade child. Very busy mom these days. I have 3 boys, 15, 12 & 5 year olds. I hope to hear from anyone from the class of 1988. I still live in the area.

=====

Re:Welcome Council Rock Class of 88

Posted by Scott Snyder - 2008/03/03 14:01

Hey Tracy! Hard to remember everyone from a class as big as ours but I managed to find this webpage and thought I would say hello as well. I went to Virginia Tech and then moved around a bit with different jobs before settling in the Greenville-Spartanburg area of South Carolina. I have been here for 12 years now and my wife and I have 3 1/2 year old twins - a boy and a girl. Hopefully some of the rest of our class will find out about the reunion since it would be nice to see some old friends. I lost touch with everyone I still knew back when I was moving around after college.

We plan to be at the reunion in November if things don't fall through like the 15th.

Scott Snyder

=====

Re:Welcome Council Rock Class of 88

Posted by Tracy - 2008/03/04 09:57

Hey Scott,
Thanks for emailing me,
I just can't believe you remember me.
We went all through school together. I am hoping to go to the reunion.
Life with me is hard right now.
Catch up later
Tracy

=====

Re:Welcome Council Rock Class of 88

Posted by Mark Gray - 2008/03/04 13:49

We should scan the yearbook so we can have faces with these names.

<--- That is NOT what I looked like back in school.

=====

Re:Welcome Council Rock Class of 88

Posted by Tracy - 2008/03/04 15:12

this is Mark Gray?
I am confussed!

=====

Re:Welcome Council Rock Class of 88

Posted by Mark Gray - 2008/03/04 17:26

Yeah it's me. Do you remember me?

i'm sorry but I don't remember you guys :(

Re:Welcome Council Rock Class of 88

Posted by Tracy - 2008/03/04 18:31

Sorry, I don't remember you and we were in the same homeroom for 4 years.....what I think I do remember you, you sat behind me with Tom Green.

It's been a long time. I could be just loosen it.

:laugh: Any way.....

B)

Re:Welcome Council Rock Class of 88

Posted by Mark Gray - 2008/03/04 23:12

What's your last name?

I remember Tom Green (tall skinny kid). I was pretty tall and had long hair.

Re:Welcome Council Rock Class of 88

Posted by Paul Paris - 2008/03/31 12:51

Not sure of any of names I've seen so far. Hope everybody is doing well for themselves, Married with 3 kids. Still live in area NE Philly. After graduation 2 years at West Chester then to work.

Re:Welcome Council Rock Class of 88

Posted by Jane Southon - 2008/06/07 09:30

G'day from Australia! I'm not an '88 graduate, but nearly an '89er- my family moved back to Australia just before graduation- as 20 years are nearly here for my graduating class- I was wondering how some of my buddies from the '88 class were going..

I was in the drama club -sock'n'buskin....otherwise was pretty much unremarkable, except for being the first Aussie at the school..:)

Re:Welcome Council Rock Class of 88

Posted by Karen Orr - 2008/07/15 16:23

Hello Class of '88. I haven't seen anyone on here that I remember but I decided to reply anyway. I live in Warminster now after going to college in FL for 4 years. I was married for 7 1/2 years then got divorced. No kids, just a job, a house and hobbies. :cheer:

Re:Welcome Council Rock Class of 88

Posted by Brian Klaus - 2008/08/04 17:15

Jane Southon wrote:

G'day from Australia! I'm not an '88 graduate, but nearly an '89er- my family moved back to Australia just before graduation- as 20 years are nearly here for my graduating class- I was wondering how some of my buddies from the '88 class were going..

I was in the drama club -sock'n'buskin....otherwise was pretty much unremarkable, except for being the first Aussie at the school..;)

Hey Jane, I remember you very well as my Mom would always give you a ride to school with us and you'd change into your punk clothes as soon as you got there. (I lived down the street from you on Juniper Dr)

I'm sure some of your long lost American Buskie friends are looking for you as well. Join the Buskin Yahoo group- http://groups.yahoo.com/group/Rock_SnB/and also join facebook and you'll find a bunch of us there as well -including Dave Harris himself. You can also join the facebook group- Bill Behun Comedy Team- <http://www.new.facebook.com/group.php?gid=33410236784> . B)

=====

Re:Welcome Council Rock Class of 88

Posted by Mark Gray - 2008/08/04 17:26

Karen Orr wrote:

Hello Class of '88. I haven't seen anyone on here that I remember but I decided to reply anyway.

Your name is real familiar to me.

I keep saying this, but I gotta get my old yearbook out and scan it.

=====

Re:Welcome Council Rock Class of 88

Posted by Jane Southon - 2008/08/15 08:18

How awesome! Great to hear from you Brian- thanks for reminding me of my quick costume changes each morning!! :blink: It was a huge culture shock being the little Aussie from a school of 500 from yrs 7-12- to a school with thousands of kids!!! Say g'day to your Mum- I'll never forget the morning it was supposed to be a snow day, but not announced via radio and your Mum-who'd kindly saved me from the school bus- and I skidded across I think it was called Newton Bridge (or something like that!!!) due to the ice!! Haven't seen snow since I left US in '89!!!!

=====

Re:Welcome Council Rock Class of 88

Posted by webrecordcb - 2008/11/06 12:03

spam

Post edited by: admin, at: 2008/11/06 13:32

=====